Welcome to LBJCB Archives

Welcome to the Long Beach Junior Concert Band Archives web site...dedicated to preserving the memories of the years spent with the band. While this web site is not associated with the Long Beach Junior Concert Band, it is created and managed by past members in support of the bands history.

What this site is

This site is dedicated to the past members of LBJCB. When you have moved on from the band, you will always have the memories of the appearances and friendships that were formed with others in the band. And don't forget the trips, Texaco commercials, ham dinners, Christmas card sales, and other fund raisers!

This is a place to share any memorabilia you have, any photos you have of the band or people in the band behind the scenes, or any memories of a special moment.

It is also a place to honor our friends that have passed on. The intent is to gather as many good memories as possible in one place, with the help of any and every past band member.

What this site is not

This site is not to Air Dirty Laundry or try to compare Long Beach Junior Concert Band with other youth bands. Whether LBJCB was better than any other band or not is based on opinion. This site is to be an archive of the past, which is not up for debate!

To keep these debates and flame wars from happening, this site will not have a forum. If you have a story to tell, please submit it for review by the site administrators, and it will be posted in the correct section. It is not our intent to censor anyone that has a story to tell, but to keep any unintentional insensitive language from being published.

What we would like from you

Please register with our web site. You will be asked for information like your city and state, the section you were in while in LBJCB, and the years you were in the band. This information is used to show where everyone is on a map. Please check out our Privacy Policy . You can even upload a small photo of yourself, either a current photo or a photo taken during your years with the band.

Also, if you have any past newsletters, photos, or stories to tell, please let us know and we'll post them on the site. The more memorabilia we have, the more fun it is for everyone!
