New Features Added to the Site

New features have been added to the registered users section of the site. Hopefully, these features will make your visit more enjoyable.

Personal Photo Galleries

There is a new tab on your profile page to allow you to upload photos and create your own personal photo gallery. Currently, there is a limit of 10 photos that any personal gallery can contain, but that limit can be changed if necessary. These photo galleries can only be viewed by other registered users, so they will only be shared with fellow LBJCB band members and alumni. Please take advantage of this feature and let us know what you think about it!

Member Connections

A social networking type of feature has been added to allow you to connect with other registered users. Another new tab will appear on your profile page to list your connections. To make a connection, go to the list of users, select the user you would like to connect with, and select the Connections button at the top of their profile and select Request Connection. That user will be notified and asked to accept your connection. Once the connection is made, you can organize your connections and e-mail them with ease. Give it a try!!

Both of these features are available from your profile page.

Let us know what you think about these new features with some feedback !!
